

Original Research

OF START

Article History

Received: 01 Dec 2025

Accepted: 23 Dec 2025

Published: 27 Dec 2025

Dibakar Pal, M. Phil<sup>1*</sup>

1. Retired Executive Magistrate (Civil Servant) in India & Independent Scholar

\*Related declarations are provided in the final section of this article.*

Abstract

Most of the time starting is within our control seldom the finishing. Very few start, more few finish. Most of them unfinish.

Keywords: Start, begin, finish, unfinished

Introduction

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform, rather it reveals. So it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. This article is an outcome of thinking about creative writing meant for a general readership. As such, I have adopted a free style methodology so that everyone can enjoy the pleasure of reading. As you might know, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal essayist, wrote many essays namely ‘Of Love’, ‘Of Friendship’, ‘Of Ambition’, ‘Of Studies’, and so on. The multiple-minded genius correctly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be used as themes for essays. But little has been done since his death to continue or finish his monumental task. Bacon's unique individual style of presentation ignited my imagination and encouraged me to write creative essays as a method of relieving a wide range of emotions through catharsis.

ARTICLE

Start is to begin doing something. It implies active and activity as well. An optimist can start easily. In contrast a pessimist can't. An introvert can start but an extrovert can't. The energy of the latter required to start is finished by tall talks. Someone takes much time to start. He chalks out the entire plan first. Then he starts. His strategy is not to think after starting. Starting implies implementation. Obviously after starting change may be necessary since something unexpected problem may appear. If the starter has thorough knowledge of the entire project then he can change the model and can fulfill the target timely. With the passage of time environment may be changed and the work cannot be done easily or sometimes the work cannot be done at all. As such an intelligent person never wastes time during working hours. An experienced person finishes the job early so that he can recheck the entire work thoroughly and may rectify or modify anything if required. After verification he submits the project confidently. Timely start and finish early are very important attributes in the market. It implies good will that acquires a brand name that never compromises with quality. A good company never indulges bargaining. Its strategy is fixed price irrespective of the status of the buyer. In fact bargaining is a nasty game. Most of the cases customers are cheated. A miser customer always searches cheap product. Cheap thing is never good since it lacks in quality. Such a miser when cannot lower the price of a good product then he searches a cheap product. In the market there are so many cheaters and the miser is easily trapped and purchases that bad thing having degraded quality. If a novice cannot start out of fear then he is well advised to start the project first. Firstly, in every step he will face obstruction. He should not lose heart rather with cool brain he should try to find out the solution. Similarly, if he lacks in knowledge then he should devote himself in study. After having thorough knowledge he should devote again in the work. If he faces hurdles again he must try to solve. The strategy is not to leave the battle field in the mid way. This tenacity is an asset. Very soon the novice will reach the target. In the second instance his journey will be easier. In course of time he will be an expert. Then he can establish a firm with firm determination. Since he has gathered thorough knowledge from the ground level then no employee can befool him since from zero he has become today's hero. An intelligent person who wants to be an entrepreneur, at first, joins the concerned company as an apprentice. After gathering thorough knowledge and becoming financially sound he may start any business. In contrast a fool jumps in the market and breaks its crown like Jack as described in the nursery rhyme. In reality most of the startup companies fail due to lack of knowledge and financially weak. The financial institutions are unwilling to give loan since there is high uncertainty to get the money back timely. Such entrepreneurs are generally young chaps who are guided by emotion rather than motion. Such a guy has knowledge but lacks in experience causing the project left unfinished.

CONCLUSION

In mathematics there are necessary and sufficient condition to satisfy an equation. If knowledge is necessary experience is the sufficient condition. Both are required. This is the key to success. He who knows it gets success. He who knows it not gets success not.

REFERENCE

They say and hearsay.

Article Publication Details

This article is published in the Journal of Zoology and Animal Biology, ISSN XXXX-XXXX (Online). In Volume 1 (2025), Issue 1 (September - December) - 2025

The journal is published and managed by ScholarFront.

Copyright © 2025, Authors retain copyright. Licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License (CC BY 4.0), which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly cited. <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/> (CC BY 4.0 deed)

Acknowledgements

We sincerely thank the editors and the reviewers for their valuable suggestions on this paper.

Funding

The authors declare that no funding was received for this work.

Publisher's Note

SCHOLARFRONT remains neutral with regard to jurisdictional claims in published maps and institutional affiliations. The statements, opinions, and data contained in all publications are solely those of the individual author(s) and contributor(s) and not of SCHOLARFRONT and/or the editor(s). SCHOLARFRONT disclaims responsibility for any injury to people or property resulting from any ideas, methods, instructions, or products referred to in the content.